"Extract from the Reconstructed Constitution of the State of Louisiana, with portraits of the distinguished members of the convention & assembly. A.D. 1868"

In the Senate, Thursday, September third, Pinchback rose to a question of privilege, and said; "I want to tell them to beware, I want to tell them they have nearly reached the end of their string, the next outrage of the kind which they commit will be the signal for the dawn of retribution - a retribution of which they have not dreamed; a signal that will cause ten thousand torches to be applied to this city, (New Orleans) for patience will then have ceased to be a virtue, and this city will be reduced to ashes."

Bill of Rights, article 13.

All persons shall enjoy equal rights and privileges upon any conveyance of a public character; and all places of business or of public resort, shall be deemed places of a public character, and shall be opened to the accommodation and patronage of all persons, without distinction or discrimination on account of race or color.
